

Application Integration

Gain greater business agility and unlock the full value of your business applications through seamless applications integration.

Integrating an existing application into a suite of other applications is a common requirement, especially with strategic software upgrades. ICS can advise on the best approach to integration and assist in identifying best practise for integrating data, services and processes. Often an integrated system requires some common 'portal' to access the various system components. Again it is here that ICS can add real value by recommending the best approach for integrating new with old.

Deliverables

The Quick Start Package for legacy application consultancy is a 5-10 day package with at least 50% on-site consultancy. ICS will undertake a detailed analysis of the application's architecture, interfaces, data-sources and key processes. Access to key business users and IT personnel will be necessary. Following the on-site consultancy ICS will produce a vision document with recommendations that tackle the area of Application Integration.
